BUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

The German Theatre Concert. concert last evening at the Academy of Music, in aid of the German Theatre fund, attracted a good audience-not so good a one, however, as we would have been pleased to see, in view of the object for which the concert was given. The programme presented was excellent, but, we may be permitted to say, just a trifle heavy for a popular entertainment. Mr. Isaac L. Rice and the gentlemen who assisted him last evening are all superior musicians, and it would perhaps be a good thing if they could educate the general public up to their own standard. As it is, they sometimes forget that the general musical culture of the community is not equal to their own, and that to the average hearer it is somewhat tiresome to listen to a long programme composed entirely of difficult classic pieces.

Mr. Rice has scarcely had time to make a reputation here yet, but his performance of last night proved him to be an unusually fine pianist. He has a firm touch and brilliant execution, and the selections that he rendered were well calculated to show the fine qualities of his style. His own concerto in E minor is a fine composition, the second movement in particular having a rare beauty and grace. This exhibited Mr. Rice in the most advantageous light, both as a composer and performer, and his brilliant execution of Liszt's piano arrangement of the overture to William Tell was worthy of the heartlest commendation. The Sængerbund Society sang Sturm und Segen," by Kalliwoda; the Mænnerchor, "Frisches Lied im Walde," and the Harmonie, with its chorus of mixed voices, "Gondellied," by Otto. All of these were finely sung, and received much applause. Mr. Emil Gastel gave several airs in a creditable manner. This gentleman has an excellent and well-trained voice, but he sings with so little expression as to detract much from the merits of his performance. Mr. Wenzel Kopta rendered Paganini's "Witch's Dance" in superb style on the violin, and received an enthusiastic encore. The orchestra was large and efficient, and, under the direction of Mr. Carl Sentz, it performed its part in a manner that left nothing to be desired.

The City Amusements.

AT THE CHESNUT Hunted Down will be performed this evening, with an amusing comedictta as an afterpiece. Most of Miss Keene's company came here as strangers, but they have rapidly won their way to public favor, and Mr. Sheridan, Miss Howard, Mr. Otis, Miss Carr, and other members of the combination who are new to Philadelphia have established their reputation as very superior artists. Such a play as Hunted Down requires good acting and good taste in the accessories to make it popular, and its success at the Chesnut is due more to the manner in which it is performed than to any merits of its own. It continues to draw crowded houses, and promises to run for an indefinite period.

AT THE WALNUT Mr. Booth will appear this evening as "Shylock" in the Merchant of Venice, and as "Don Cæsar de Bazan" in the drama of that name. AT THE ARCH All's Well That Ends Well will be re-

AT DUPREZ & BENEDICT'S OPERA HOUSE, Seventh atreet, below Arch, the new minstrel troupe have made an excellent start. The performances are very entertaining, and the large number of persons in the company gives a variety that suits the popular taste, ATTHE ELEVENTH STREET OPERA HOUSE an enter-taining selection of Ethiopian comicalities will be presented this evening.

THE "STAR" COURSE OF LECTURES .- Mr. De Cor-THE "STAR" COURSE OF LECTURES.—MI, De Cordova will discourse this evening, at the Academy of Music, on "Our New Clergyman." This gentleman is a genuine humorist, and his lectures are always amusing. His theme this evening is one that will afford him excellent opportunities for both wit and satire, and a first-rate entertainment may be exmental.

MAD'LLE CARLOTTA PATTI will give but two con-certs in this city at present—on Friday and Saturday evenings next—and as there is much interest felt in evenings next—and as there is much interest feit in musical circles to hear a singer who has so high a reputation in Europe, there will undoubtedly be crowded houses on both occasions. Madile Patti, by all accounts, has improved greatly since she last appeared here, and those who remember her delicious voice as it was a few years ago, will scarcely fail to be in attendance at the two entertainments for which she is announced. The sale of sects commenced to do at Trumplet's tainments for which she is announced. The sale of seats commences to-day at Trumplet's.

Hermann, the great prestidigitateur, will appear at the Academy of Music on Monday, November 1, for a brief season, and he will introduce a number of new and curious experiments in natural magic for the delight of his auditors.

An Organ for Horticultural Hall have issued the following circular which we commend to the attentions of the attention of the atte following circular, which we commend to the atten-tion of our readers. There ought to be no difficulty in securing the sum required for the purchase of the Jubilee organ; as to the propriety of securing it for Horticultural Hall no one will doubt:—

Jubilee organ; as to the propriety of securing it for Horticultural Hall no one will doubt:—

At the urgent request of the principal organists of this city, it is now proposed to place a large and powerful concert organ in this hall, which is universally conceded to be admirably adapted to give proper effect to such an instrument, and that the need of it, as an accompaniment to oratorios, musical festivals, concerts, and commencements, is universally felt; especially as there is no hall in this city whore such performances can be given with an organ accompaniment. An opportunity is now offered, which may never again occur, of securing just such an instrument as is needed for this purpose, for a very moderate price. Messrs. Hook, of Boston, offer for sale the grand organ which they built expressly for the great "National Peace Jubilee," held in the Coliseum, at Boston, in June last, and which fully answered the purpose of sustaining the immense chorus of 11,000 voices and 800 instruments, and which can also be used as a solo instrument when needed for such a purpose. Messrs. Hook write—"We do not believe that there is any other place in the country more favorable for the organ than your hall, and for this reason are disposed to consider the matter in a most liberal spirit." They also state that the organ can be set up and ready for use in from three to eight weeks. This organ, powerful as it is, will occupy but a small portion of the stage, and will not materially interfere with its use for other purposes; but, on the contrary, it will increase the revenues of the hall by inducing parties to rent the hall for purposes which they could not accomplish without its aid. As the directors do not intend to go into debt for the organ, it will be necessary to secure subscriptions to the amount of $5000, by the first of November, before they will coasent to purchase the Your and this winter. Subscription lists may be found at Mr. Henry A. Dreer's, No. 714 Chesaut street; Mr. James F. Gould's, No. 963 Chesaut street; and M

CRIME.

Heavy Robbery in Louisville - Arrest of a

From the Louisville Express, Oct. 22. Some time during the month of September just passed, Mr. J. H. Huber, cashier of the People's Bank of Kentucky, in this city, received a letter from Mr. Biankenship, of Scottsville, Kentucky, notifying him that he had just been robbed of about $7000, and that among the notes taken a considerable quantity was the issue of the People's Bank—that as there was no such money now in circulation, no doubt the thief or thieves would present them no doubt the thief or thieves would present them at the bank in this city for redemption. Mr. Huber replied that he did not know that he could do anything, as, if presented, it might be in very small sums, so as not to attract any attention, and that Mr. Blankenship had better send notice to the police in various cities. Nothing further was heard of the matter till this morning, when a young man presented himself at the counter of the bank with some notes of the People's Bank, which he wished to have eashed in currency. On counting there appeared to cashed in currency. On counting there appeared to be about two hundred and forty dollars, and as the amount was much larger than is usually presented. Mr. Huber conferred with the President, Mr. Hamilamount was much larger than is usually presented, Mr. Haber conferred with the President, Mr. Hamiton, and they concluded to detain him, which they did, inviting him into the President's office. Word was immediately sent to Superintendent Shadburne's office, and a policeman sent to the bank. Arrived there, and believing his confederates, if he had any, would soon appear, and ask for him, the parties remained at the bank. Very shortly after another man entered and inquired of Mr. Huber if such a party had yet finished his business. He was told no, and asked to walk back into the office. Seeing the first party in the custody of a policeman, the second denied all knowledge of him, but it was no go. An additional force of police now appeared, and the first party was searched. On his person was found some two thousand five hundred dollars, among which were various amounts in the notes of the People's Bank, Southern Bank, Bank of Kentucky, as well as some greenbacks. This boing pretty strong presumptive evidence, they were asked for the names of any other confederates, and where they stopped. They had put up at the United States Hotel. On examination of the register it was found that three men arrived last night by a train on the Nashville road, and registered themselves as J. H. Meader, W. Blankenship and J. C. Simmons, of Macon county, Tennessee. The three men was taken in charge, and lodged in the First street station-house. The party answering to the name of Blankenship is the one on whose person the money was found, and he lassaid to be a grandson of the Mr. Blankenship from whom the seven thousand dollars were stolen. Word has been forwarded to Scottsville, and the parties will be held till Mr. B. arrives. till Mr. B. arrives.

A MISTAKE.

How They Attempted to Bury the Wrong Corpse in Mecklenburg. The Berlin Fremdenblatt is responsible for the following curious story:—

"Ven L., formerly Mecklenburg Minister of Finance, died not long ago in Wiesbaden, leaving no direct descendants, his wealth going to a lot of unthankful relatives. The Grand Duke of Mecklenthankful relatives. The Grand Duke of Mecklenburg sent some persons to look after the transportation of the corpse to the family vault in 'blessed' Mecklenburg; and on its arrival at the family mansion it was there placed in state, and on the day appointed for burial the residents of the estate all assembled to pay the last homage to their old lord, and a number of persons were allotted the task of bearing the coffin to the vault. The latter, however, as soon as they stood by the side of the coffin, refused, as with one tongue, to move it, saying:—'Nay, we will first know who lies in the coffin. Remonstrance was vain. 'Nay, that is not our master, they said:

will first know who lies in the coffin.' Remonstrance was vain. 'Nay, that is not our master,' they said; 'he was much larger.'

"Finally the coffin had to be opened then and there, and, behold, it was found to contain not the old Finance Minister, but an aged and unknown lady. Of course, astonishment in such a case was natural, and the curious transformation case was interest in the curious transformation case was interest. mediately inquired into. It appears that the old gentleman and a wealthy Russian lady landowner died at Wiesbaden on the same day, and being sent home for burial, by some inexplicable error the good old Mecklenburg Finance Minister was shipped off to the interior of Russia somewhere, and the Russian lady arrived at Mecklenburg, and would have been buried there but for the acuteness of the peasants. At first Von L.'s relatives wanted to keep the matter quiet, and just inter the old lady in Von L.'s family vauit, but no, the old gentleman's retainers said:— 'The strange woman-being shall not be buried in our master's vault.' Nor was she. Whether the Mecklenburg Finance Minister has been buried with all the pomp of a Russian cultus has not yet been ascertained. If so, as every Protestant Mecklen-burger is a downright heathen in orthodox Russian eves, he will have to be disinterred and removed to

LIBEL.

The Law Appertaining Thereto. A California paper, commenting on certain enlightened views expressed by an English Court in 1867, in reference to a libel suit instituted against the London Times for a report of a debate in the English Parliament, says of the California juries:—"They will follow this enlarged and liberalized view of modern English law, and hold that reports of the proceedings of public holdes are so far privileged. proceedings of public bodies are so far privileged that they are not actionable so long as they are honest and fair, and that they may be commented upon by the press in terms justified by the circumstances disclosed in the proceedings reported, thinking men of the time know that such law is sential to an enlightened public opinion and judg-ment, and to the vindication and establishment of truth and liberty."

A General Kicking Out. The Manhattan Cluh is clearly going to the dogs. First, the cook was kicked out; then the butcher was discharged; the poulterer and steward followed; and now we learn that our aristocratic friend the City Judge, who, as he has repeatedly assured us, is a gentleman by birth and cincation, has been blackballed, and the Telegram and the Metropolitan Record are pouring balm upon his waning popularity.—N. THE SHIVERING SEASON.-It is impossible to suppose that any human being can consider an attack of Fever and Ague a light visitation. And yet thousands act as if such a calamity was of no consequence; while thousands who are actually suffering from the distressing complaint negect to adopt the certain means of cure. It ought to be known in every locality subject to this scourge, or which is infested with remittent fever, or any other epidemic produced by malaria, that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, taken in advance or at the commencement of the unhealthy season, will fortify the system against the atmospheric poison which generates these distempers. This admirable invigorant-harmless, agreeable, and possessing rarer medicinal virtues than any other tonic at present mown-will break up the paroxysms of intermittent or remittent fever in from forty-eight hours to ten days. Such is the universal testimony from districts where periodica fevers have been combatted with this powerful vegetable Cholegogue. In a thievish neighborhood wise men bar their doors and windows, yet strange to say, if the same neighborhood happens to be pervaded by serial poison they seldom take the trouble to put their bodies in a state of defense against the subtle enemy. Shivering victims endeavoring in vain to warm your blue hands over the fire, or consuming with the fever that follows the chill, remember that Hosterren's Birrens is an absolute, speedy, and infull-ble specific for your distressing malady.
